DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Elston et al.

Elston et al. shows, figure 2, a remote ordering system for mobile commerce. All transactions are routed through Tax Engine 58 (page 20, external software). The tax engine 58 computes the sales taxes applicable (detecting when a capitalized fix asset is involved in a transaction) to the order. It should be understood that sales tax can be interpreted in a very broad sense to include state, county and local taxes, Value Added Tax (VAT), Goods and Services Tax (GST), surtaxes, etc.(all categories with certain criterion, including jurisdiction location) The tax engine queries (plurality of queries) the Store information directory 36 (store and customer locations included) for the tax codes (which include tax rates and rules for applying the tax rate) applicable to the items in the order. The rules and parameters used for determining which tax rate applies and the tax amount are found in the store information directory Tax computation information, including the tax codes applied, is passed to the payment engine 12 for logging and reporting. Error flags and alarms are used if any part of the delivery process does not work. As far as hierarchy, if the asset does not meet the initial criteria for a particular tax, further queries would not be done.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cornelius et al. shows a system of interest.
